

Two Hundred and Six People in Vocational Education are Honored by the Ministry of Education

(Courtesy of Mei-Ru, Zhang at the Division of Academic and Vocational Senior High Education)

The National Vocational Education Excellence Awards for the school year of 2018 was held at the Activity Center of the Taipei Municipal Daan Vocation High School at 9:20 a.m. on Wednesday, May 22, 2019. There were 206 students from different learning backgrounds with outstanding achievements as well as teachers and administrative staff who were committed to vocational education gathering together to receive the awards from Wen-Chung Pan, Minister of Education. Meanwhile, the winners' teachers (parents) and school representatives were invited to attend the event.

The rotational host of the award ceremony for this school year was the Department of Education of the Taipei City Government. Out of a total of 406 candidates recommended by junior and senior high schools as well as administrative agencies in special municipalities, counties, and cities, 206 students, teachers, and administrative personnel with outstanding achievements were selected in a prudent and objective manner by a review team composed of scholars and experts commissioned by the Department of Education of the Taipei City Government to receive the awards based on the principle of fairness, impartiality, and openness. Of the 206 outstanding students, teachers, and administrative personnel, 64 were junior high school students, 37 were senior high school students, 43 from junior high school faculty members, and 48 senior high school faculty members, as well as 14 administrative personnel and retirees.

This event was kicked off by a “Three People’s Figure Diabolo Show” by the Andes' Show, and "Three Dimensional Stunt Dance with LED" and "Figure Rope Jumping" were performed in the process of presenting awards. At the event, the award-winning students’ and teachers’ representatives were invited to deliver an acceptance speech, so as to motivate students in vocational education to work hard and strive for success.

This event was launched in the school year of 1998 with the aim of drawing the attention of the public to the students who are good at picking up vocational skills. As such, these students can regain their confidence in the field of vocational skills, and the teachers and administrative personnel who are engaged in vocational education will be recognized for their efforts and contributions.